Sims Solutions

Our primary focus is web design but our range of services expands to email marketing, Search Engine Optimization and much more. We take the time to listen to your vision and use that to develop your website presence. Our designs are custom, creative and depict the personality of your company. We offer no templates and therefore we have no limitations. We have served clients across the North Texas region with professionalism yet we hold that personal touch that many larger design firms can not provide.

Our design team is enthusiastic about any business industry and looks forward to building your on-line business portfolio. Visit us on-line for more information www.simssolutions.com or www.simsolutionsww.com.

Testimonial

Melissa Sims, of Sims Solutions has handled my two websites www.chimacumtack.com and www.comfyfit.com for several years. When she took my site over she needed to integrate my old, complicated, web page with my current needs. In addition she needed to build a completely new website to mimic a catalog. On line

I have horror stories to tell about web management problems from 4 other web management people. In fact I hesitated for two years to have Melissa take over my sites because I was terrified I'd have new problems on top of old ones as had been my previous experience.

My business has increased almost 50% in the past 3 years since Melissa began handling my sites. I attribute much of that growth to the increasing visibility of my products. She understands web construction as well as marketing.

She is willing to work independently and promote my sites. She makes helpful, articulate suggestions and follows up on whatever is requested of her. She works promptly, quickly and cheerfully to accomplish what I actually want to have accomplished. If I ask for something she thinks could be improved, she tells me so. I depend on her to remind me of things I need to do, like domain registrations. I consider her a critical part of my business. I work in a small niche market – not Melissa's area of interest or expertise, however she has proven that she does not need to understand my products to promote them.

As long as I have a site it will be handled by Sims Solutions.

Every Business wants to thrive and "if our clients don't look good then we don't look good".

Your on-line presence is often the first impression your business or organization offers the public. In short "Don't blow it" and make a good impression, keep you audience captivated, supply the information they are looking for and strive to ensure an interest so they buy, contact and return in the future.

If your site is strictly informational then secure your audience with a quick precise answer to their question or concern. Don't make the mistake of causing frustration and keep the information current.

Development

We can help develop a new site or update an existing site.

Bells & Whistles

Extra script can aid or hinder an on-line presence. Sims Solutions can evaluate on-line requirements to aid the overall effect.

Maintenance

Keep your information & content current.
